

VARNER HELD WITHOUT BOND

Outcome of Shooting at Knightstown
Last Night, is Apparently Uncertain This Afternoon.

RUSSEL HAYES, 19, WOUNDED

Albert Varner of Charlottesville
Shoots Him in Shoulder After
Altercation—Bullet in His Back.

Albert Varner of Charlottesville, a coal and ice dealer with offices in Knightstown, is held in the Newcastle jail pending the outcome of a wound he inflicted in Russel Hayes, age nineteen, of Knightstown, during an altercation between the two at Knightstown last night.

Varner shot Hayes in the left shoulder and the bullet all but passed clear through his body. It lodged against his spinal column and was almost protruding through the skin.

That Hayes' condition is considered critical is indicated by the fact that Varner is held without bond until Hayes' condition is known. It apparently means that some fear is felt that Hayes may die as a result of the shooting.

This morning doctors had not yet succeeded in taking the bullet from Hayes' back although they had probed for it. Hayes never lost consciousness and believed that he would recover.

The shooting occurred in front of the Hub clothing store on the streets of Knightstown last night about ten-thirty o'clock. Varner is said to have been intoxicated at the time.

Peter Wagoner, the Knightstown marshal, got a version of the story from witnesses and from Hayes himself. The marshal says that Hayes attempted to "josh" Varner and he resented it.

Even though he saw Varner was angry, Hayes continued the fun at Varner's expense until the latter hit Hayes. Hayes knocked Varner down, the marshal says, and Varner arose, very deliberately drew his revolver and shot Hayes when he was only a few feet away.

Varner offered no resistance when he was arrested by Marshal Wagoner shortly after the shooting. He was lodged in Knightstown jail and held there over night. Marshal Wagoner took him to Newcastle this morning and a charge was preferred against him in Henry circuit court.

Knightstown people do not know of any trouble between Hayes and Varner before and that the shooting was most probably due to the fact that Varner had been drinking and could not stand for Hayes' quips for his benefit.

Hayes is the son of Milton Hayes, a Knightstown teamster, and has no regular employment. He has been engaged some as a chauffeur. Hayes was well known in Rushville.

Varner lives in Charlottesville but maintains a coal and ice business in Knightstown. His yards and offices are at Knightstown, and he makes daily trips there from his home. Varner is married but has no children.

GOOD ATTENDANCE.

The attendance at the nightly meetings at the St. Paul M. E. church in observance of passion week is encouraging, according to the Rev. W. H. Wylie and the interest is deep. "The Day of Silence" will be the pastor's subject tonight. Miss Norma Smith will sing a solo.

The funeral services of A. J. Kennedy will be held tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock at the Salt Creek Baptist church. Burial will take place in the church cemetery.

$1,000 REWARD OFFERED

Sheriff Receives Letter From Burns
Concerning Embezzler.

Sheriff Clara Bebout has received a letter from the W. J. Burns detective agency offering $1,000 reward for the capture of Theodore Lacy, former chief clerk in the Alabama state convict department at Montgomery and who is charged with embezzling $100,000 and absconding the 12th of this March. The reward is offered by Governor O'Neill of Alabama.

OFFERS $50 IN CORN PREMIUMS

Rushville National Bank Will Award
Three Prizes For Best Ten Ears
Grown in 1913.

EXPERT WILL BE THE JUDGE

Circulars have been sent through the mails announcing the first annual corn contest of the Rushville National bank. "Believing that the growing of corn," says the circular, "is at the basis of the commercial prosperity of our community, and desiring to encourage as far as possible the best methods of culture, we have decided to offer three prizes of $25, $15 and $10 each for the first, second and third best ten ears of corn grown in Rush county in 1913."

Those who propose to enter the contest should apply at the bank for entry blanks and additional information surrounding the contest. The rules prescribe that each exhibit shall consist of ten ears of corn, any kind or color. The exhibits will be judged by a non-resident corn expert, and the exhibits must be left on exhibition for ten days after the report of the report of the judge. The winners will be expected to explain in a public meeting if asked, how their land and crop was handled in obtaining results. The exhibits will remain the property of the exhibitor.

STOCKHOLDERS OF CREAMERY TO MEET

New Rushville Concern Will be Incorporated at Least $15,000
and Possibly More.

$10,000 IN STOCK SUBSCRIBED

The first meeting of the stockholders of the new Rushville company organized to operate a creamery will be held tomorrow afternoon and a committee will be appointed to seek a location. It was stated this afternoon that the company would be incorporated for at least $15,000 and perhaps more. Ten thousand dollars worth of stock has already been subscribed for the venture. The representative of a Cleveland firm, who has been pushing the organization, will likely erect the plant and equip it completely. Present plans are for the purchase of Ed Darnell's ice cream plant and combining it with the creamery. Many prominent business men and a few farmers have taken stock.

The promoters of the new concern believe that there is a crying need for a creamery here. They say that the majority of farmers ship their cream away from Rushville and that the money might as well be kept at home.

URGES LIBRARY IN EACH LOCALITY

Sixth District Chairman of Federation of Clubs Points Out Ease
of Such Enterprise.

VALUE OF THE INSTITUTION

Each Township May Maintain Own
Library With Sub Libraries in
The Schools.

Mrs. E. K. Montgomery of Shelbyville, sixth district chairman of the Federation of Clubs, has addressed a letter to the Daily Republican in which she urges the establishment of a library in every locality. Under the present library laws it would be possible for every township in Rush county to have its own library, well stocked with the best works.

The cost of such an undertaking would be surprisingly small, it is said. So small would it be in fact, that no one would be sensible of any burden, while practically everyone would receive direct benefit either in the way of actual profit or of substantial pleasure.

"There is no reason on earth why every city, town and township in Rush county should not have a free public library, if all the people of the county understood how the library laws of the state work," writes Mrs. Montgomery.

"Of course, everybody nowadays recognizes the need for public libraries. The library is the adult school, 'the people's university.' It is the place to which all classes of citizens may go for concrete facts, for general information, for inspiration and for entertainment—for pleasure and for profit. And what other public institution offers as much to all the people?"

"But the cost! Yes that's the rub. But it isn't really a very serious rub after all. It has been proven—is being proven every day in Indiana—that the per capita cost for maintaining a library is only a few cents—much less per year than many a man spends each month for tobacco. There are nearly 150 public libraries in Indiana, dozens of which are being supported by small towns and by townships.

"One fine thing about the library laws of Indiana is that co-operation is possible between towns and townships, and between one or more townships. This makes the maintenance of public libraries easy in many communities where it would otherwise be difficult. And the library service is good under such schemes, for it is customary now for a library that serves a rural community to establish little branch libraries in all the county school houses, in country stores, rural churches, etc., so that everybody can have easy access to the book collections.

"The State of Indiana is so much interested in this proposition that it maintains a library department called the Public Library Commission—at 104 State House, Indianapolis—whose chief business is to answer questions and give free advice on the establishment and organization of public libraries.

"Club women especially should interest themselves in local public library movements. It is at once a most practical thing and an aid to culture. As Federation Chairman of the Sixth District, I earnestly recommend that this matter receive early attention."

The Pythian Sisters will hold their regular meeting tonight and a large attendance is desired.

FAILS TO ORDER CLEAN-UP DAY

Council Does Not Even Consider
Proposition Much to Disappointment of Civic Association.

CITY BUYS TWO ROAD DRAGS

West Tenth Street Will be Improved
With Sidewalks, Gutter, Curb
and Stone Roadway.

The city council meeting last night was a rather tame affair and very little business was transacted. It was expected that the council would order a clean-up day but this was not even considered by the council. The Social Service and Civic Improvement Association had been lead to believe that the council would order a clean-up day. In fact some of the women had secured the promise of at least two councilmen and they expected that the order would be made last night.

The committee from the Social Service and Civic Improvement Association was greatly disappointed at the failure of the council or the mayor to order a clean-up day but will not give up the fight and will try once more to get the city cleaned up.

The condition of the city streets has evidently been brought to the attention of the council as the city will buy two road drags. The drags were purchased on motion of Councilman Kelley and will be bought of the Madden company. An improvement resolution calling for cement gutters on both sides of Harrison street from Fifth street south to Second street was passed. Tenth street will also be improved from the west side of Sexton street west to Spencer street. Cement sidewalks, gutters, curb and a stone road way will be the extent of the improvement.

A permit was granted the contractor to use the streets in moving the old M. E. church parsonage. The building will be taken north on Main street to Eleventh street. The contractor was given forty-eight hours in which to have the use of the streets. He proposes to move the house without injury to the brick street.

The mayor and clerk were instructed to borrow $300 with which to meet the expenses of the recent "wet" and "dry" election. The canvassing board for this election presented a claim for ten dollars each but the council thought this was too much money and cut the bill down to six dollars. The usual claims were allowed.

SPECIAL EASTER SERVICE

Knights Templar Will Hear Sermon
By Rev. C. M. Yocum.

The annual Easter services of the Rushville Commandery, Knights Templar will be held at the Main Street Christian church Sunday morning. The sermon will be preached by the pastor, the Rev. C. M. Yocum. As is the usual custom, the Knights will appear in full dress uniform. Miss Helen Scott will sing a solo, "The Resurrection," and the choir will sing an anthem, "Light of Easter Morning." Following the responsive reading by the Knights Templar, Miss Scott and Mrs. Carl F. Behrer will sing a duet, "Hark, Hark My Soul."

ALLISON BOY ACQUITTED

Found Not Guilty of Shooting Charles Cregor, Fairview.

Fourteen-year-old Alva Allison, who was on trial Monday and Tuesday charged with shooting with intent to kill Charles Cregor, of near Fairview, was acquitted in short order Tuesday afternoon, says the Connersville News. The case ended about two o'clock, and the verdict was returned about 2:15. The boy was acquitted on the first ballot.

FIFTEEN PASSED TEACHERS' EXAM

Out of Fifty-Five Applicants, This Number Received Licenses to Teach in This County.

FOUR GRADED BY STATE SUPT.

The work of grading the papers for the last teachers' examination has been completed. Out of fifty-five applicants, licenses were granted to fifteen. Nine of the examination papers were sent to the state superintendent for examination and four of these received a passing grade. Four were received by County Superintendent C. M. George from other counties. The enumeration blanks have been received from the state superintendent's office and are ready for distribution. The enumeration will begin April 10 and must be completed by the first Monday in May.

Supt. George has also received the programs for the Southern Indiana Teachers' meeting to be held in Indianapolis March 27, 28 and 29. A majority of the township schools will close one week from Friday and Supt. George is busy preparing for the end of the school year.

STARTLED BY ASSASSINATION

Local Greeks Did Not Think King
George Loved So Well Should Die Thus.

FRIEND OF COMMON PEOPLE

Mike Katsaros, manager of the Greek candy kitchen, says King George of Greece, who was assassinated late yesterday, was a real friend of the common people. He has been on the throne fifty years, and by his many acts of charity, the local Greek says, endeared himself to the class of people who make up the greater part of the inhabitants of his kingdom.

"Many a time," said Katsaros today, "King George has gone out into the provinces alone and unattended. He seldom had a guard of any kind about him. I have known him to go to places where he was not known so much like the common people was he."

All of the local Greek colony were surprised to hear of the assassination. They thought a king who had ruled so well and so long—over half a century—would never meet death by the hands of an assassin.

The funeral services of Mrs. Caroline Mauzy were conducted this afternoon at the late residence in North Morgan street by the Rev. C. M. Yocum. Burial took place in East Hill cemetery.

NEW FEE LAW TO BE TESTED

Suit Will Probably Be Started in Greensburg When Commissioners Refuse to Pay.

NOT ONLY LEGISLATURE GRAB

Clerks Also Given Certain Fees and
Do not Have to Make Accounting.

The law passed by the Indiana legislature which legalized sheriff's in-and-out fees back to 1909 will probably be put to acid constitutional test in a very short while. Plans are afoot at Greensburg to institute a test suit on this feature.

The Chairman of the Decatur county commissioners has said that when the sheriff presented his bill for the extra fees at the board's meeting in three weeks the commissioners would refuse to allow it. The only recourse the sheriff will have then is a suit against the board. If the case is appealed it will enable the higher court to pass upon the validity of the new law.

The action of the commissioners will be based upon an opinion of the county attorney who holds that vagrants may not be sheltered in the county jail except upon a mittimus issued by a magistrate before whom formal charges have been filed by an officer. Decatur county during 1912 cared for 745 vagrants at a total cost in fees of $371.25. Bartholomew and Rush counties paid out nothing, while Shelby county paid only $3.50.

With the view that the ex-sheriffs, sheriffs, ex-county clerks and county clerks should "get theirs" if there was any division of "pork" the legislature passed legalizing acts to permit the ex-county officials to grab off all they had hoped to grab under the unconstitutional acts of 1909 relating to sheriffs' and clerks' fees.

Representative Lyday put in a bill which legalized all the fees charged

Get 100 Cents Value for Every Dollar You Spend.

A dollar is worth 100 cents value in everything you buy, but do you always get "value received?"

You can give or take from the value of a dollar by the way in which you spend it. Your pleasures in life, your standing and influence in the community depend largely upon the value you place on every dollar you own and the value you get on every dollar you spend.

Dollars spent unwisely lose their full purchasing power and value to you; careful spending and systematic saving will enable you to secure "value received" and future independence.

You will secure full value for every dollar you spend by reading the advertisements in THE DAILY REPUBLICAN closely and constantly every day. THE DAILY REPUBLICAN'S advertisements will tell you of the best purchasing opportunities and direct you to the most reliable stores in Rushville.

Comfort Your Stomach

We pay for this treatment if it fails to promptly relieve indigestion and dyspepsia.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets remedy stomach troubles because they contain the proper proportion of Pepsin and Bismuth and the necessary carminatives that help nature to supply the elements the absence of which in the gastric juices causes indigestion and dyspepsia. They aid the stomach to digest food and to quickly convert it into rich red blood and material necessary for overcoming natural body waste.

Carry a package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in your vest pocket, or keep them in your room. Take one after each heavy meal and prove our assertion that they will keep indigestion from bothering you.

We know what Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are and what they will do. We guarantee them to relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, or to refund your money, if they fail to do so. Doesn't it stand to reason that we wouldn't assume this money risk were we not certain Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will satisfy you? Three sizes: 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00.

COURT EXPLAINS RECENT ACTION

Why Grand Jury at Terre Haute Was Discharged.

NOT THE QUICKEST WAY OUT

Judge Fortune, in Speaking of the Summary Discharge of Inquisitors Who Were About to Begin Investigation of Alleged Primary Frauds, Declared the Better Plan to Be the Direct Filing of Charges.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 19.—Judge C. M. Fortune of the circuit court said he summarily discharged the grand jury as it was beginning an investigation of the Democratic primaries last Thursday because "the quickest way to get action in election cases is for persons who have complaints to file them directly with the prosecutor." Also, as the grand jury has no other work, it would be an unnecessary expense to keep it in session. Last year two grand juries investigated primaries and registration and one jury sat for several weeks, with occasional outgivings of sensational results. Finally two or three men were indicted on technical charges, which lawyers said could not be sustained in court, and which finally caused the cases to be dismissed.

Prosecuting Attorney Werneke when asked about the action of Judge Fortune, said: "The prosecutor's office will continue to do its duty and pay attention to the complaint of any citizen." Before the judge discharged the grand jury the prosecutor said he had bundles of evidence and that he would see to it that all of it was submitted to the grand jury.

ANSWERED COUNTRY'S CALL

And Found Himself Out of Business Upon His Return Home.

Fort Wayne, Ind., March 19.—That being a patriot and serving one's country as a clerk in the Indiana legislature sometimes causes a tremendous sacrifice is indicated in a suit filed here in which Frank Erickson asks damages in the sum of $1,500 from George Stenger, Charles Kees, John Frederick Fuelber, Edward Robinson, John Thompson, Elmer Jones and William Robinson. Erickson is a resident of Edgerton, Allen county. He answered the call of his country and left his poolroom and barber shop to serve as a clerk in the legislature.

In his complaint he says he was a tenant of the Robert Hixon Land company, and that in his absence the room he had occupied was sold and his possessions were abruptly moved and disposed of and that he was not properly notified of the proceedings. Stenger is the justice of peace before whom the proceedings were instituted. Fuelber and Kees are his bondsmen. Edward Robinson bought the property and the others are in the case as justice court officers.

COURT BREAKS UP BAD GANG

Stockwell Youths Had Organized to Create Reign of Terror.

Lafayette, Ind., March 19.—Judge R. P. Dehart sentenced four Stockwell boys and one man to different state institutions. The offenders were arrested for the breaking into the store of William H. Holloway, father of three of the boys. Estel Holloway, fourteen years old, the youngest of the boys, was committed to the Indiana school at Plainfield. James and George Holloway were sentenced to serve terms of from two to fourteen years each in the Jeffersonville reformatory. Harry Vancourt was sentenced to serve from one to eight years at Jeffersonville. Ray Lindsay, thirty-three years old, another of the same gang, was sentenced to serve a term of two to fourteen years in the Michigan City penitentiary. It was brought out at the trial that the boys had organized at Stockwell on the night of March 14 for the purpose of causing a reign of terror in that village.

Accidentally Blew Head Off.

Bloomington, Ind., March 19.—Charles Wesley West, thirty-five years old, a farmer who lived near Hindostan, sixteen miles north of here, accidentally killed himself by shooting off the top of his head with a shotgun. His body was found near the kitchen door, indicating that he was on his way outside when he struck the trigger against the wainscoting, causing the gun to be accidentally discharged.

A Boy and a Gun.

Connersville, Ind., March 19.—Fredrick Reed, aged six, shot himself through the abdomen with a .38 caliber revolver and died twenty minutes later. The boy had climbed up to a bureau drawer and got the revolver to play with it. "It hurt when it bit me, papa, but it don't hurt any more, and I'm sleepy now," he gasped. He died before a physician arrived.

Something New in Theft.

Evansville, Ind., March 19.—Thieves set a new precedent in the larceny records of the Evansville police when they tore up and walked away with ninety feet of hedge fence bordering the lawn of George P. Neill and Mrs. Anna P. Helm on Walnut street. There is no clue.

The Last Course Must Be the Most Attractive

When people are hungry they are less critical of what is set before them than they are when the dessert appears. This course must be attractive to eye and palate alike—a light and tempting sweet, in distinction from the substantial dishes preceding it. You can make such desserts with Knox Gelatine. For today try—

Blanc Mange with Almonds

1 envelope Knox Sparkling Gelatine.
3½ cups cream or milk. ½ pound almonds.
1 cup sugar.

Soften gelatine in ½ cup milk or cream five minutes and dissolve by standing in hot water. Pound the almonds, after blanching, with part of sugar; add rest of sugar and part of cream. Let stand ½ hour or more, then press through napkin. Add to this almond milk, the dissolved gelatine and rest of milk or cream, turn into mold. Serve with cream.

Two Packages—Plain and Acidulated.

Both Making Two Quarts (½ gallon) of Jelly.

With the Plain Sparkling, lemons are used for flavoring; but with the Acidulated package comes an envelope of concentrated lemon juice—a great convenience when too busy to squeeze lemons. Both contain a tablet for coloring.

Let us send you the Knox Recipe Book and enough Gelatine to make one pint —enough to try most any one of our desserts, puddings, salads, jellies, ice creams, sherbets, candies, etc.

GRAY FADED HAIR, OR BEAUTIFUL, DARK, ATTRACTIVE—CHOOSE, MADAM!

Says Sage Tea Mixed With Sulphur Restores Natural Color and Luster.

Gray, faded hair turned beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night, is a reality, if you'll take the trouble to mix sage tea and sulphur, but what's the use, you get a large bottle of the ready-to-use tonic, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at drug stores here for about 50 cents. Millions of bottles of "Wyeth's" are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after just one application the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth, gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with the Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be amazed at your youthful appearance and the real beauty and healthy condition of your hair within a few days. Inquiry at drug stores here shows that they all sell lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and the folks using it are enthusiastic.

Mr. Souder is preparing to lease other farm land in this vicinity for the purpose of putting down oil wells.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription. We have sold other remedies for skin troubles but none that we can recommend as highly as this for we know that D.D.D. stops the itch at once. We just want you to give D.D.D. a trial. That will be enough to prove it. Of course all other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute. But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

The Need of a Convention.

Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa, in a speech at Des Moines recently, declared that a Republican national convention should be called next fall to change the southern representation so as to equalize it with that of the north.

This recalls the bare fact that the Indiana delegation stood for a lowering of the southern representation at the 1908 convention. A move was afoot then to make the representation more equal. But there came from Roosevelt at the White House a command that no change should be made. Then his control of the party organization would have been lost. His control then was so powerful that his will prevailed.

There is little doubt but that the representation as it is now constituted is unfair. The suggestion that a convention be called to make a change for the better has met with approval among Republicans all over the United States.

Senator Cummins expressed the belief that the doors of opportunity are now swinging wide for the Republican party, and unless it enters, the temporary defeat may become final. He declared the southern representation caused the party organization to cease to be unrepresentative.

"It must be apparent to every thinking man that such injustice could not endure, and that whenever the Republicans in such States as Iowa saw their will and purpose overthrown by the overrepresented states, a rebellion would follow," he said.

"To me the only wonder is that we have submitted so long. The time has now come to amend our organization so that it will be fair and right, and I predict that until we do it the Republican party will not be restored to the confidence of the people.

"If we are in earnest in trying to make the Republican party strong again we must not wait until 1916 to readjust the basis of representation; we must do it now, and there is but one way to do it, and that is for the national committee to call together a national Republican convention, and for such convention, free from the disturbances of a campaign for nominations, to take up the subject and deal with it according to the very right of the matter. If we fail to do this, the door of opportunity will be shut in our faces.

"How can we invite the men who rebelled against the outcome of the Chicago convention again to bear the Republican banner so long as we acknowledge that a handful of Republicans in certain states can neutralize the will and purpose of that great army of Republicans who made the party what it was, and can make it so again if they be given a chance to do it.

"We ought not to hesitate for a moment in the national convention, which should be speedily called. We ought to declare in clear and unequivocal terms that when delegates are elected according to law they should be accepted without question or dispute. I see no hope for the restoration of the Republican party to strength and power unless we do this simple act of justice, and do it at once. If our organization is thus changed so that our convention will become really representative, so that all men may know that the Republican will, as declared by the individual Republican voter, both as to platform and nomination, will be faithfully carried out to the very end, then the Republican party will constitute the safest and best instrumentality of the present time for good government.

BELIEVES HE HAS CHANCE FOR BERTH

H. E. Barrett Still Entertains Hope of Being Named Member of Public Service Commission.

OTHERS MAY GET SOME "PIE"

Howard E. Barrett, city attorney, feels that he still has fighting chance to land a berth on the Indiana public service commission, created by the Shively-Spencer commission act passed by the last legislature. The commission will consist of five members at a salary of $6,000 each. The commission will absorb the railroad commission, meaning three appointments will have to be made since the term of one of the three members of the railroad commission expire soon.

Mr. Barrett has already asked for an appointment and some local Democrats have pressed his claims. Indianapolis dispatches say that Governor Ralston has already determined to appoint Thomas M. Duncan of Princeton, Fred S. Caldwell of Winchester and Charles Clark of Danville, but the story is not confirmed. All three men are lawyers and have served as circuit court judges.

It is understood that two or three other local Democrats have their eyes on the "pie" counter and may place in a good job, but the news is not quite ready for the public yet.

An eight pound boy was born this afternoon to the wife of Derby Green in North Main street.

Notice of Election.

A meeting of the Stockholders of the Rushville Co-operative Telephone Company will be held in the Assembly room at the court house in the city of Rushville, Indiana at 7:30 p. m., Friday, April 11th, 1913; for the purpose of electing a board of directors and transacting such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

FESTIVE ARRAY OF SPRING FASHIONS BRINGS CROWD.

The Mauzy Company's "day-light" store was crowded this afternoon for the annual opening. The store was in festive array for the occasion, merchandise was displayed with pleasing effect and embellished with flowers and other tasteful decorations.

The windows were the source of much favorable comment. The background for each was a rural scene painted by Bruce Beck, the decorator at the store who was responsible for the fine effects in the windows and the first and second floors. Rambler roses were used in setting off the hand paintings in the windows, and spring coats, frocks, suits, shoes, draperies and other seasonable merchandise were displayed to excellent advantage.

The display of goods in the first floor, beautified by the decorations, was very fetching and many visitors at the store this afternoon made many admirable comments on the arrangement.

The ceiling was massed with a series of lattice work, entwined with tulips in various colors. The border of the ceiling was arrayed in masses of bows, set off with tulips. The chandeliers were decorated in the same manner. The arrangement of the merchandise was very attractive. Especially so was the display of parasols along the south ledge, the full length of the store.

The suit, coat and ready-made dress department at the front of the second floor was the mecca for women visitors who literally flocked there to see the display of the spring fashions by living models. Ferns were used to good advantage in the decorations.

The display of draperies, also on the second floor, was arranged in fine array. The third floor, which is devoted to carpets and rugs, was arranged by Will Leach, who has charge of that department. The expensive and large assortment of rugs and carpets needed no embellishments, so attractively were they displayed.

If You are Going to Buy a Buggy This Spring

take the same interest in the business that you would if you were buying a horse. Examine the buggy you buy. Look it over for blemishes. Try it out in a way to find out what you can reasonably expect of it in the way of service. If you were buying a horse from one of your neighbors you would examine him to see if he was sound and what kind of service he had given the man that owned him. That is what we want you to do when you buy a buggy. Ask your neighbor what kind of service he has had out of the buggy he bought of us and you will find him a satisfied man as far as that transaction is concerned. The next thing to do is to come to our sample room and see if we have a buggy that suits your needs and if you find one that fills the bill, EXAMINE IT and find out right on the sample floor what you can expect of it in the way of service. Look it over for weak points, see if it is sound and try it out just as you would if you were buying a horse and when you are satisfied that it is right in every way and will fit your requirements, buy it and take it home, then should there be anything wrong with it in any way we will make it right. Our buggies give good road service and we want you to own one of them.

The Willing Workers will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Frazier Johnson, 511 North Perkins street. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Virgil Tevis, Mrs. Lucian Miller and Mrs. Pink Derringer.

AMUSEMENT.

The Princess will show an Edison drama entitled "An Unsullied Shield" for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a thrilling picture. The other is a Pathe drama "The Hollow Tree." Tomorrow night a two-reel Kalem feature "The Guiding Light" will be shown.

The Palace will show the usual two pictures tonight. "The Law of God" is the subject of the first, an American western dram. The other is a comedy film showing two subjects "Rough on Rats" and "The Baby and the Cop."

The coolest crook and the most blase lover in the whole world are to be found in the cast of "Officer 666," Augustin McHugh's farce, which will be the attraction at English's Opera House, Indianapolis, March 20, 21 and 22, with a matinee on Saturday.

The crook calmly assumes the name and occupies the house of an absent millionaire and proceeds to rifle the residence of its valuable paintings, while the lover, mistaken for a piteous thief, gets his wrists in a pair of handcuffs and while manacled proposes to and is accepted by the girl of his choice.

"Officer 666" is an unusual play. It keeps you guessing and makes you laugh. The cast includes Clarence Oliver, George Howell, Ralph Dean, Frank McGlynn, John Arthur, Iona Bright, Edna Hibbard and Charlotte Lambert.

INFANT DEAD.

Ober F. Reynolds, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds, died yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at their home on the Cullen farm west of the city. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at ten o'clock conducted by the Rev. C. M. Yeom. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

COURT DARK.

Judge Megee was in Newcastle today on business and as a result the circuit court was "dark." It has been rather quiet in court this week due to the continuance of the Robert Gardner drain case. The case was to have taken up four days.

LAST OF SERIES.

The last of the series of meetings held by the C. W. B. M. of the Main Street Christian church in observance of the week of prayer will be at the church Thursday evening at seven-thirty o'clock. The subject will be "The Holy Land" and Mrs. Roy Waggener will be the leader. Church members are especially urged to attend.

The funeral of Robert Dora, who died at his home in Glenwood yesterday, will be held at the residence Thursday morning at eleven-thirty o'clock, conducted by the Rev. W. D. Sterrett of Glenwood. Interment will take place in the Glenwood cemetery. Mr. Dora was an Odd Fellow.

VERN WINK WANTS CHANGE OF VENUE

Knightstown Druggist Asserts in Affidavit He Can't Get Fair Trial in Newcastle.

PUBLIC PREJUDICED, HE SAYS

Vernon Wink, the Knightstown druggist under arrest for selling liquor illegally, has made an affidavit in the circuit court to the effect that the Daily Times has prejudiced the minds of the public against him and that therefore he can not be given a fair and impartial trial, says the Newcastle Times. Therefore he asks for a change of venue.

The affidavit is a voluminous affair and relates that the Daily Times in big bold face type proclaimed to the world that the defendant had been arrested on the charges alluded to and that the publication of the court records in the matter had had an effect which would not tend to serve the ends of justice.

A motion for a change of venue from a circuit court wherein a misdemeanor only is alleged, is held to be of very rare occurrence, although persons charged with a felony very frequently take a change of venue from the court in which those charges originated. That, however, is an entirely different matter. Wink is under bonds in the sum of $2,000, there having been eight different charges filed against him.

Arguments were made for and against the motion for a change and Judge Jackson took the matter under advisement.

CHAPTER VII.

The Letters.

Before a table strewn with papers, in the room we have already mentioned as given over to the use of the police, sat Doctor Heath in a mood too thoughtful to notice the entrance of Mr. Gryce and Sweetwater from the dining-room where they had been having dinner.

However, as the former's tread was somewhat lumbering, the coroner's attention was caught before they had quite crossed the room, and Sweetwater, with his quick eye, noted how his arm and hand immediately fell so as to cover up a portion of the papers lying nearest to him.

"Well Gryce, this is a dark case," he observed, as at his bidding the two detectives took their seats.

Mr. Gryce nodded; so did Sweetwater.

"She was not shot. She was not struck by any other hand; yet she lies dead from a mortal wound in the breast. Though there is no tangible proof of her having inflicted this wound upon herself, the jury will have no alternative, I fear, than to pronounce the case one of suicide."

"I'm sorry that I've been able to do so little," remarked Mr. Gryce.

The coroner darted him a quick look.

"You are not satisfied? You have some different idea?" he asked.

The detective frowned at his hands crossed over the top of his cane, then shaking his head, replied:

"The verdict you mention is the only natural one, of course. I see that you have been talking with Miss Challoner's former maid?"

"Yes, and she has settled an important point for us. There was a possibility, of course, that the paper-cutter which you brought to my notice had never gone with her into the mezzanine. That she, or some other person, had dropped it in passing through the lobby. But this girl assures me that her mistress did not enter the lobby that night. That she accompanied her down in the elevator, and saw her step off at the mezzanine. She can also swear that the cutter was in a book she carried—the book we found lying on the desk. The girl remembers distinctly seeing its peculiarly chased handle projecting from its pages. Could anything be more satisfactory if—I was going to say, if the young lady had been of the impulsive type and the provocation greater. But Miss Challoner's nature was calm, and were it not for these letters—" here his arm shifted a little—"I should not be so sure of my jury's future verdict. Love—" he went on, after a moment of silent consideration of a letter he had chosen from those before him, "disturbs the most equable natures. When it enters as a factor, we can expect anything—as you know. And Miss Challoner evidently was much attached to her correspondent, and naturally left the reproach conveyed in these lines."

And Doctor Heath read:

"Dear Miss Challoner: Only a man of small spirit could endure what I endured from you the other day. Love

You must reach the root of it—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right at it; Reach the cause; attack the pain.

Are recommended by many Rushville people.

Harrison Levi, 931 N. Harrison St., Rushville, Ind., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are the only remedy that ever did me any good. I am glad to confirm what I said in their praise in 1907. I had to get up several at night to pass the kidney secretions which were sometimes attended with pain. I had severe backaches, too. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Johnson's Drug Store and it did not take them long to make me well. The pains all left and the action of my kidneys became regular. I am now free from kidney weakness.

such as mine would be respectable in a clod-hopper, and I think that even you will acknowledge that I stand somewhat higher than that. Though I was silent under your disapprobation, you shall yet have your answer. It will not lack point because of its necessary delay."

"A threat!"

The words sprang from Sweetwater, and were evidently involuntary.

"It is the only letter of them all which conveys anything like a reproach," proceeded the coroner. "Her surprise must consequently have been great at receiving these lines, and her resentment equally so. If the two met afterwards—"

But I have not shown you the signature. To the poor father it conveyed nothing—some facts have been kept from him—but to us—" here he whirled the letter about so that Sweetwater, at least, could see the name, "it conveys a hope that we may yet understand Miss Challoner."

"Brotherhood!" exclaimed the young detective in loud surprise. "Brotherhood! The man who—"

"The man who left this building just before or simultaneously with the alarm caused by Miss Challoner's fall. It clears away some of the clouds be-fogging us. She probably caught sight of him in the lobby, and in the passion of the moment forgot her usual instincts and drove the sharp-pointed weapon into her heart."

"Brotherhood!" The word came softly now, and with a thoughtful intonation. "He saw her die."

"Why do you say that?"

"Would he have washed his hands in the snow if he had been in ignorance of the occurrence? He was the real, if not the active, cause of her death and he knew it. Either he—"

And Death Rate Will be Lowered.

Statistics prove that the death rate is very much greater in the winter months than in summer, and that the lack of fresh air is largely responsible for this condition.

If the system becomes run-down, blood thin and watery, circulation poor, no appetite, don't dose with drugs, but take our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol, not a patent medicine, as everything in it is named on every package and if it does not give you a hearty appetite, enrich the blood and create strength, we will return your money; that shows our faith in Vinol.

A case has just come to our attention from Albany, N. Y., Mrs. H. Hartman says: "I was in a run-down condition for about five years until this spring, when I learned what a good tonic and strengthener Vinol is. It is certainly the best tonic I have ever used and it has done wonders for me."

cuse me, Doctor Heath and Mr. Gryce, it is not for me to obtrude my opinion."

"Have you settled it beyond dispute that Brotherson is really the man who was seen doing this?"

"No, sir. I have not had a minute for that job, but I'm ready for the business any time you see fit to spare me."

"Let it be tomorrow, or, if you can manage it, tonight. We want the man even if he is not the hero of that romantic episode. He wrote these letters, and he must explain the last one. His initials, as you see, are not ordinary ones, and you will find them at the bottom of all these sheets. He was brave enough or arrogant enough to sign the questionable one with his full name. This may speak well for him, and it may not. It is for you to decide that. Where will you look for him, Sweetwater? No one here knows his address."

"Not Miss Challoner's maid?"

"No; the name is a new one to her. But she made it very evident that she was not surprised to hear that her mistress was in secret correspondence with a member of the male sex. Much can be hidden from servants, but not that."

"I'll find the man; I have a double reason for doing that now; he shall not escape me."

Doctor Heath expressed his satisfaction, and gave some orders. Meanwhile, Mr. Gryce had not uttered a word.

CHAPTER VIII.

Strange Doings for George.

That evening George sat so long over the newspapers that in spite of my absorbing interest in the topic engrossing me, I fell asleep in my cozy little rocking chair. I was awakened by what seemed like a kiss falling very softly on my forehead, though, to be sure, it may have been only the flap of George's coat sleeve as he stooped over me.

"Wake up, little woman," I heard, "and trot away to bed. I'm going out and may not be in till daybreak."

"You! going out! at ten o'clock at night, tired as you are—as we both are! What has happened—Ah!"

This broken exclamation escaped me as I perceived in the dim background by the sitting-room door, the figure of a man who called up recent, but very thrilling experiences.

"Mr. Sweetwater," explained George. "We are going out together. It is necessary, or you may be sure I should not leave you."

He gave me a little good advice as to how I had better employ my time in his absence, and was off before I could find words to answer.

As soon as the two were in the street, the detective turned towards George and said:

"Mr. Anderson, I have a great deal to ask of you. Mr. Brotherson has vanished; that is, in his own proper person, but I have an idea that I am on the track of one who will lead us very directly to him if we manage the affair carefully. What I want of you, of course, is mere identification. You saw the face of the man who washed his hands in the snow, and would know it again, you say. Do you think you could be quite sure of yourself, if the man were differently dressed and differently occupied?"

"I think so. There's his height and a certain strong look in his face. I cannot describe it."

"You don't need to. Come! we're all right. You don't mind making a night of it?"

"Not if it is necessary."

"That we can't tell yet." And with a characteristic shrug and smile, the detective led the way to a taxicab which stood in waiting at the corner.

A quarter of an hour of rather fast riding brought them into a tangle of streets on the East side.

When they stopped, which was in a few minutes, Sweetwater said to George:

"We shall have to walk now for a block or two. If you can manage to act as if you were accustomed to the place and just leave all the talking to me, we ought to get along first-rate."

Don't be astonished at anything you see, and trust me for the rest; that's all."

They alighted, and he dismissed the taxicab. Some clock in the neighborhood struck the hour of ten.

"Good! we shall be in time," muttered the detective, and led the way

Some Clock in the Neighborhood Struck Ten.

down the street and round a corner or so, till they came to a block darker than the rest, and much less noisy. "There's a meeting on tonight, of the Associated Brotherhood of the Awl, the Plane and the Trowel (whatever that means), and it is the speaker we want to see; the man who is to address them promptly at ten o'clock. Do you object to meetings?"

"Is this a secret one?"

"It wasn't advertised."

"Are we carpenters or masons that we can count on admittance?"

"Hush! I must speak to this man."

George stood back, and a few words passed between Sweetwater and a shadowy figure which seemed to have sprung up out of the sidewalk.

"Balked at the outset," were the encouraging words with which the detective rejoined George. "It seems that a pass-word is necessary, and my friend has been unable to get it. Will the speaker pass out this way?" he inquired of the shadowy figure still lingering in their rear.

"He didn't go in by it; yet I believe he's safe enough inside," was the muttered answer.

GREEK KING SLAIN BY A CRAZY MAN

Tragedy In Streets of Salonica.

IS SHOT FROM BEHIND

King George Victim of Beggar He Had Spurned.

HE REFUSED THE MAN MONEY

Beggar Thereupon Crept Up Behind and Shot.

Salonica, March 19.—While walking in the streets here Tuesday afternoon King George of Greece was shot and mortally wounded by an apparently insane man, and died half an hour later. The king and one of his aides were walking along the street at 5 o'clock, when a Greek named Aleko Schoinas came up behind them and fired from a revolver point blank into the back of the king. King George fell to the ground and died half an hour later. Schoinas, who apparently is insane, was immediately arrested. Prince Nicholas, one of King George's sons, immediately notified Crown Prince Constantine, who was at Janina, of the event which makes him the new king of Greece. There is nothing that suggests that the murder was a political one or anything else than the act of a maniac.

THE SLAIN KING.

The city of Salonica was captured many weeks ago by the Greeks, and King George's soldiers and subjects had since occupied the place.

Athens, March 19.—Tremendous excitement was aroused here when the news of the assassination of King George was received. The streets are thronged with sympathetic and excited people, who are discussing the tragedy which has befallen them at a moment when the royal family was at the height of its popularity owing to the Greek successes in the war and the share the members of the royal family have had in the victories over the Turks.

Details of the assassination are incomplete. One account says the assassin is a madman. Another account says he was a Socialist who belonged to Vole. He was accompanied by an unnamed comrade, according to this story. Schoinas is described as a man fifty years of age and badly dressed. It is said that when arrested Schoinas said he had shot the king because he refused to give him money for which he had asked.

Queen Olga arrived here last evening from Preveza. She learned of her husband's fate aboard the steamer. She sailed for Salonica at once. The Russian cruiser with the new King Constantine aboard left Janina last night for Salonica. Thence she will come to Athens.

Son of Old King Christian.

George I. was the second son of King Christian IX. of Denmark. He was born at Copenhagen on Dec. 24, 1845. His grandfather was a direct descendant of the Danish King Christian III., and his grandmother was Louise, daughter of a prince of Hesse-Cassel. King George's father occupied a patriarchal position and was related to almost every sovereign of Europe. His wife, the king of Greece's mother, was called "the aunt of all Europe."

George was educated with all the strictness and simplicity that prevails in a Denmark palace. He was put in the navy, and it was here, a young midshipman eighteen years old, in disgrace for refusing to obey orders, by the way, that he was sought out by the chancellors of Europe and offered a throne in a country about which he knew practically nothing and which it is doubtful if he had ever seen.

It was a time of grave events in Greece. The midshipman was being

CONSTANTINE

called to a nation which had just deposed a king chosen for Greece by the powers in much the same way that George was being chosen. Otto of Bavaria, in his attempt to override the constitution, had aroused the enmity of the people. His position had become untenable. A provisional government was set up and Otto and the queen fled in a British warship back to Bavaria, and the throne was offered to Prince William George, the Danish midshipman. Prince George was before the masthead being punished for insubordination when the emissaries came with the offer of a throne. The Greeks, wearied of internal troubles, received him with open arms.

On Oct. 17, 1867, King George married the Grand Duchess Olga Constantinovna of Russia. Their children were Prince Constantine, born the following year; Prince George, born in 1869; Prince Michaelas, born in 1872; Prince Andrew, born in 1882; Prince Christopher, born in 1888, and one daughter, Princess Marie, who was born in 1876.

The New King.

King Constantine, the new ruler of Greece, four years ago, and before that time, was most unpopular in his own kingdom where today he is a hero clasped with the ancient warriors of the historic land. The ruler for whom Greeks all over the world as well as in Greece have been buying chaplets, swords, jeweled wreaths, as the liberator of the land from the thrall of the Turks, has heard outside the palace walls at Athens and at his own chateau of Tatoi the cry of the mob that he and his father abdicate in favor of his own eldest son, Prince George; he has had the military league of his own army and navy against him to the extent of mutiny; he has been inveighed against in the parliament and publicly scored in the newspapers for political reasons. Now when he returns to Athens, not only as king, but as commander of an army that revived the glory that once was Greece, there will be no limit to the popular enthusiasm.

Konstantines, Duke of Sparta, eldest son of King George, was born at Athens, Aug. 2, 1868. He was educated by tutors who were brought from Leipzig, and one of the accusations against him has been that he has always shown the effects of German influence. Tall, soldierly in appearance, quiet, reserved almost to the point of shyness, in the ordinary court functions he has always made every endeavor to avoid the crowds. He has always been known as a man with opinions of his own, even to the extent of going out after a ministry which he thought was going contrary to the best interests of the country.

Brother-in-Law of Kaiser.

King Constantine is a brother-in-law of the German emperor, although it is said the royal brothers-in-law have not spoken for a half dozen years. He was married at Athens, Oct. 27, 1889, to the Princess Sophia of Prussia, sister of Emperor William, and the trouble came not so long after that, when the princess became a member of the orthodox Greek church. The Kaiser is a Lutheran and he objected to the change. There are five children by this marriage: Prince George, born July 19, 1890; Prince Alexander, born in 1893; Princess Helene, born in 1896; Prince Paul, born in 1901, and the Princess Irene, who is nine years old.

Undoubtedly King Constantine did much to keep his father on the throne for so many years. There had been threats to dethrone him, to none of which did the old king enter serious objection. The only point he ever made was that he would not abdicate. But for years he has preferred the lights of Paris and the baths of France to his own kingdom. During the meantime King Constantine always acted as regent, and he administered with all the firmness that an exceedingly jealous kingdom would permit him. How jealous they may be was shown in the attitude of the subjects after the Crete fiasco, when the present king was accused of involving his country unnecessarily. There were just as sharp strictures following the previous war with Turkey in Thessaly, where it was said that his conduct had not been princely. That the criticism was unjust has long since been acknowledged, but at that time there were loud demands that he resign the succession.

DR. JONES' LINIMENT
IS A NECESSITY

Just think what a convenience and pride it gives to every housewife to be prepared for emergency; that she can be of immediate service to her family, neighbors or friends in case of accident or sudden illness, and spare a great deal of suffering by always keeping a bottle of Dr. Jones' Liniment handy.

For instance, a slight injury may eat into the flesh and develop into a bad wound. Pneumonia may develop from a slight cold, etc., but a little of Dr. Jones' Liniment applied in the nick of time gets to the sore spot at once, and effects relief.

For the youngsters who suffer from earache, chilblains or frost bites, the suffering must be relieved at once, and Dr. Jones' Liniment will do it.

Old people are usually afflicted with coughing spells, rheumatism, cold and cramps in the hands and feet, and other pains peculiar to the aged. Dr. Jones' Liniment, applied frequently to the afflicted parts, stimulates the circulation, stops the pain and proves a blessing.

The comforts of home are incomplete without a bottle of Dr. Jones' Liniment. It is absolutely pure, and may be used on invalids and the most delicate children with perfect safety.

Sold by Thos. W. Lytle, F. E. Wolcott and all druggists.

FARMERS HIT BY NEW GAME LAWS

Has No Right To Hunt In His Own Township Without a Hunter's License.

"JOKER" SLIPPED THROUGH

Unlawful to Hunt Any Kind of Game

Except Duck and Waterfowl

From Dec. 20 to April 1.

Every person who goes hunting in Indiana off of his own land must have a license costing $1 after the new license law goes into effect, when the acts of the last legislature are published. The fact that there was no provision in the bill permitting persons to hunt any place in their own township without a license, as has been the case, escaped notice during the progress of the measure through the legislature.

Only children under 12 years of age and wives of men holding licenses to fish outside of the county in which they live and adjoining counties under the new law. The licenses cost $1 and permits both hunting and fishing. Holders of hunting licenses are not required to take out new permits in order to fish.

A number of changes are made in the fish and game laws in another bill put through the legislature by Fish and Game Commissioner Miles now in effect.

It makes twelve bass instead of twenty the limit for one day's catch and limits the number of blue gills, croppies and sun fish to fifty.

Bottle fishing or the use of any floating devices is made unlawful, as is catching fish with the hands or killing them by electricity. No hook smaller than a 6-0 Kirby can be used on a trout line.

The fish and game commissioner is given authority to set aside shallow bays for breeding grounds and no fishing may be done in them from March 20 to July 1 of each year.

The new law makes it unlawful to hunt any kind of game except duck and waterfowl from Dec. 20 to April 1 of the following year. The open season for quail is now from Nov. 10 to Jan. 20, instead of to Jan. 1.

Another law enacted by the last legislature makes it unlawful to hunt rabbits with ferrets.

Enforcement of laws for the protection of fur-bearing animals is placed in the hands of the fish and game commissioner and the game wardens can prosecute violators the same as they prosecute violators of the fish and game laws.

The bill establishing a closed season for fishing failed to pass.

LIVINGSTONE CENTENARY

Rushville People Recall Famous Missionary Was Born 100 Years Ago.

Many Rushville people today recalled that this was the centenary of David Livingstone's birth. He was born at Blantyre, Scotland, March 19, 1813 and died at Bangweulu, Africa, May 1, 1873. As many have written since his death, Livingstone was a man of many interests, but with a single aim. His life has thrilled the world, and the hundredth anniversary of his birthday has been generally celebrated and referred to by many speakers. He became famous by giving his life to missionary work in Africa.

HIS "SPRING OPENING."
While merchants of Rushville were holding spring openings today, Jesse Winship held his. He appeared on the downtown streets with a straw hat on, the first one of the season to see the light of day. Mr. Winship prides himself for setting the pace in this respect. He also manages each spring to "beat everybody to it" with his hat.

NEW FEE LAW TO BE TESTED

and claimed by the sheriffs under the 1909 act. This meant a big sum of money to the people of Indiana, but the legislature gave little consideration to the question. It just "whooped it through." This bill was permitted by the Governor to become a law. He voted a bill by Senator Fleming, however, which sought to give to sheriffs in the future the in-and-out fees, and also to give them 50 cents instead of 40 cents a day for boarding prisoners.

The Bramaman "clerk's grab" bill, in addition to voting out of the county treasuries more than $75,000 for the sole and personal benefit of ex-county clerks, by giving them fees to which the supreme court decision in the sheriffs' case declares they are not entitled, also gives them such fees in the future. Thus it was a salary "grab" of something like $35,000 a year for the county clerks as a class. It also contains one of the worst provisions that can be found in any law in the state. This is a "joker" which permits the clerks to charge and collect and retain these fees without making any accounting or report. This conceals from the public the facts as to the amount of money the clerks are putting into their own pockets. The clerks' bill became a law without the Governor's signature.

There are many people in Indiana who can not figure out why a sheriff should receive 25 cents every time a prisoner is delivered into his custody and 25 cents every time he releases one, nor why the clerk should put into his own pocket a fee for doing work pertaining to his office. These people believe that it is in return for doing such things as this that the sheriff and clerk receive their salaries.

VARNER HELD WITHOUT BOND

Outcome of Shooting at Knightstown
Last Night, is Apparently Uncertain This Afternoon.

RUSSEL HAYES, 19, WOUNDED

Albert Varner of Charlottesville
Shoots Him in Shoulder After
Altercation—Bullet in His Back.

Albert Varner of Charlottesville, a coal and ice dealer with offices in Knightstown, is held in the Newcastle jail pending the outcome of a wound he inflicted in Russel Hayes, age nineteen, of Knightstown, during an altercation between the two at Knightstown last night.

Varner shot Hayes in the left shoulder and the bullet all but passed clear through his body. It lodged against his spinal column and was almost protruding through the skin.

That Hayes' condition is considered critical is indicated by the fact that Varner is held without bond until Hayes condition is known. It apparently means that some fear is felt that Hayes may die as a result of the shooting.

This morning doctors had not yet succeeded in taking the bullet from Hayes' back although they had probed for it. Hayes never lost consciousness and believed that he would recover.

The shooting occurred in front of the Hub clothing store on the streets of Knightstown last night about ten-thirty o'clock. Varner is said to have been intoxicated at the time.

Peter Wagoner, the Knightstown marshal, got a version of the story from witnesses and from Hayes himself. The marshal says that Hayes attempted to "josh" Varner and he resisted it.

Even though he saw Varner was angry, Hayes continued the fun at Varner's expense until the latter hit Hayes. Hayes knocked Varner down, the marshal says, and Varner arose, very deliberately drew his revolver and shot Hayes when he was only a few feet away.

Varner offered no resistance when he was arrested by Marshal Wagoner shortly after the shooting. He was lodged in Knightstown jail and held there over night. Marshal Wagoner took him to Newcastle this morning and a charge was preferred against him in Henry circuit court.

Knightstown people do not know of any trouble between Hayes and Varner before and that the shooting was most probably due to the fact that Varner had been drinking and could not stand for Hayes' quips for his benefit.

Hayes is the son of Milton Hayes, a Knightstown teamster, and has no regular employment. He has been engaged some as a chauffeur. Hayes was well known in Rushville.

Varner lives in Charlottesville but maintains a coal and ice business in Knightstown. His yards and offices are at Knightstown, and he makes daily trips there from his home. Varner is married but has no children.

GOOD ATTENDANCE.

The attendance at the nightly meetings at the St. Paul M. E. church in observance of passion week is encouraging, according to the Rev. W. H. Wylie and the interest is deep. "The Day of Silence" will be the pastor's subject tonight. Miss Norma Smith will sing a solo.

The funeral services of A. J. Kennedy will be held tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock at the Salt Creek Baptist church. Burial will take place in the church cemetery.

$1,000 REWARD OFFERED

Sheriff Receives Letter From Burns
Concerning Embezzler.

Sheriff Clata Bebout has received a letter from the W. J. Burns detective agency offering $1,000 reward for the capture of Theodore Laey, former chief clerk in the Alabama state convict department at Montgomery and who is charged with embezzling $100,000 and absconding the 12th of this March. The reward is offered by Governor O'Neill of Alabama.

OFFERS $50 IN CORN PREMIUMS

Rushville National Bank Will Award
Three Prizes For Best Ten Ears
Grown in 1913.

EXPERT WILL BE THE JUDGE

Circulars have been sent through the mails announcing the first annual corn contest of the Rushville National bank. "Believing that the growing of corn," says the circular, "is at the basis of the commercial prosperity of our community, and desiring to encourage as far as possible the best methods of culture, we have decided to offer three prizes of $25, $15 and $10 each for the first, second and third best ten ears of corn grown in Rush county in 1913."

Those who propose to enter the contest should apply at the bank for entry blanks and additional information surrounding the contest. The rules prescribe that each exhibit shall consist of ten ears of corn, any kind or color. The exhibits will be judged by a non-resident corn expert, and the exhibits must be left on exhibition for ten days after the report of the report of the judge. The winners will be expected to explain in a public meeting if asked, how their land and crop was handled in obtaining results. The exhibits will remain the property of the exhibitor.

STOCKHOLDERS OF CREAMERY TO MEET

New Rushville Concern Will be Incorporated at Least $15,000
and Possibly More.

$10,000 IN STOCK SUBSCRIBED

The first meeting of the stockholders of the new Rushville company organized to operate a creamery will be held tomorrow afternoon and a committee will be appointed to seek a location. It was stated this afternoon that the company would be incorporated for at least $15,000 and perhaps more. Ten thousand dollars worth of stock has already been subscribed for the venture. The representative of a Cleveland firm, who has been pushing the organization, will likely erect the plant and equip it completely. Present plans are for the purchase of Ed Darnell's ice cream plant and combining it with the creamery. Many prominent business men and a few farmers have taken stock.

The promoters of the new concern believe that there is a crying need for a creamery here. They say that the majority of farmers ship their cream away from Rushville and that the money might as well be kept at home.

URGES LIBRARY IN EACH LOCALITY

Sixth District Chairman of Federation of Clubs Points Out Ease
of Such Enterprise.

VALUE OF THE INSTITUTION

Each Township May Maintain Own
Library With Sub Libraries in
The Schools.

Mrs. E. K. Montgomery of Shelbyville, sixth district chairman of the Federation of Clubs, has addressed a letter to the Daily Republican in which she urges the establishment of a library in every locality. Under the present library laws it would be possible for every township in Rush county to have its own library, well stocked with the best works.

The cost of such an undertaking would be surprisingly small, it is said. So small would it be in fact, that no one would be sensible of any burden, while practically everyone would receive direct benefit either in the way of actual profit or of substantial pleasure.

"There is no reason on earth why every city, town and township in Rush county should not have a free public library, if all the people of the county understood how the library laws of the state work," writes Mrs. Montgomery.

"Of course, everybody nowadays recognizes the need for public libraries. The library is the adult school, 'the people's university.' It is the place to which all classes of citizens may go for concrete facts, for general information, for inspiration and for entertainment—for pleasure and for profit. And what other public institution offers as much to all the people?"

"But the cost! Yes that's the rub. But it isn't really a very serious rub after all. It has been proven—is being proven every day in Indiana—that the per capita cost for maintaining a library is only a few cents—much less per year than many a man spends each month for tobacco. There are nearly 150 public libraries in Indiana, dozens of which are being supported by small towns and by townships.

"One fine thing about the library laws of Indiana is that co-operation is possible between towns and townships, and between one or more townships. This makes the maintenance of public libraries easy in many communities where it would otherwise be difficult. And the library service is good under such schemes, for it is customary now for a library that serves a rural community to establish little branch libraries in all the county school houses, in country stores, rural churches, etc., so that everybody can have easy access to the book collections.

"The State of Indiana is so much interested in this proposition that it maintains a library department called the Public Library Commission—at 104 State House, Indianapolis—whose chief business is to answer questions and give free advice on the establishment and organization of public libraries.

"Club women especially should interest themselves in local public library movements. It is at once a most practical thing and an aid to culture. As Federation Chairman of the Sixth District, I earnestly recommend that this matter receive early attention."

The Pythian Sisters will hold their regular meeting tonight and a large attendance is desired.

FAILS TO ORDER CLEAN-UP DAY

Council Does Not Even Consider
Proposition Much to Disappointment of Civic Association.

CITY BUYS TWO ROAD DRAGS

West Tenth Street Will be Improved
With Sidewalks, Gutter, Curb
and Stone Roadway.

The city council meeting last night was a rather tame affair and very little business was transacted. It was expected that the council would order a clean-up day but this was not even considered by the council. The Social Service and Civic Improvement Association had been lead to believe that the council would order a clean-up day. In fact some of the women had secured the promise of at least two councilmen and they expected that the order would be made last night.

The committee from the Social Service and Civic Improvement Association was greatly disappointed at the failure of the council or the mayor to order a clean-up day but will not give up the fight and will try once more to get the city cleaned up.

The condition of the city streets has evidently been brought to the attention of the council as the city will buy two road drags. The drags were purchased on motion of Councilman Kelley and will be bought of the Madden company. An improvement resolution calling for cement gutters on both sides of Harrison street from Fifth street south to Second street was passed. Tenth street will also be improved from the west side of Sexton street west to Spencer street. Cement sidewalks, gutters, curb and a stone road way will be the extent of the improvement.

A permit was granted the contractor to use the streets in moving the old M. E. church parsonage. The building will be taken north on Main street to Eleventh street. The contractor was given forty-eight hours in which to have the use of the streets. He proposes to move the house without injury to the brick street.

The mayor and clerk were instructed to borrow $300 with which to meet the expenses of the recent "wet" and "dry" election. The canvassing board for this election presented a claim for ten dollars each but the council thought this was too much money and cut the bill down to six dollars. The usual claims were allowed.

SPECIAL EASTER SERVICE

Knights Templar Will Hear Sermon
By Rev. C. M. Yocum.

The annual Easter services of the Rushville Commandery, Knights Templar will be held at the Main Street Christian church Sunday morning. The sermon will be preached by the pastor, the Rev. C. M. Yocum. As is the usual custom, the Knights will appear in full dress uniform. Miss Helen Scott will sing a solo, "The Resurrection," and the choir will sing an anthem, "Light of Easter Morning." Following the responsive reading by the Knights Templar, Miss Scott and Mrs. Carl F. Beher will sing a duet, "Hark, Hark My Soul."

ALLISON BOY ACQUITTED

Found Not Guilty of Shooting Charles Cregor, Fairview.

Fourteen-year-old Alva Allison, who was on trial Monday and Tuesday charged with shooting with intent to kill Charles Cregor, of near Fairview, was acquitted in short order Tuesday afternoon, says the Connersville News. The case ended about two o'clock, and the verdict was returned about 2:15. The boy was acquitted on the first ballot.

FIFTEEN PASSED TEACHERS' EXAM

Out of Fifty-Five Applicants, This Number Received Licenses to Teach in This County.

FOUR GRADED BY STATE SUPT.

The work of grading the papers for the last teachers' examination has been completed. Out of fifty-five applicants, licenses were granted to fifteen. Nine of the examination papers were sent to the state superintendent for examination and four of these received a passing grade. Four were received by County Superintendent C. M. George from other counties. The enumeration blanks have been received from the state superintendent's office and are ready for distribution. The enumeration will begin April 10 and must be completed by the first Monday in May.

Supt. George has also received the programs for the Southern Indiana Teachers' meeting to be held in Indianapolis March 27, 28 and 29. A majority of the township schools will close one week from Friday and Supt. George is busy preparing for the end of the school year.

STARTLED BY ASSASSINATION

Local Greeks Did Not Think King
George Loved So Well Should Die Thus.

FRIEND OF COMMON PEOPLE

Mike Katsaros, manager of the Greek candy kitchen, says King George of Greece, who was assassinated late yesterday, was a real friend of the common people. He has been on the throne fifty years, and by his many acts of charity, the local Greek says, endeared himself to the class of people who make up the greater part of the inhabitants of his kingdom.

"Many a time," said Katsaros today, "King George has gone out into the provinces alone and unattended. He seldom had a guard of any kind about him. I have known him to go to places where he was not known so much like the common people was he."

All of the local Greek colony were surprised to hear of the assassination. They thought a king who had ruled so well and so long—over half a century—would never meet death by the hands of an assassin.

The funeral services of Mrs. Caroline Mauzy were conducted this afternoon at the late residence in North Morgan street by the Rev. C. M. Yocum. Burial took place in East Hill cemetery.

NEW FEE LAW TO BE TESTED

Suit Will Probably Be Started in Greensburg When Commissioners Refuse to Pay.

NOT ONLY LEGISLATURE GRAB

Clerks Also Given Certain Fees and
Do not Have to Make Accounting.

The law passed by the Indiana legislature which legalized sheriff's in-and-out fees back to 1909 will probably be put to acid constitutional test in a very short while. Plans are afoot at Greensburg to institute a test suit on this feature.

The Chairman of the Decatur county commissioners has said that when the sheriff presented his bill for the extra fees at the board's meeting in three weeks the commissioners would refuse to allow it. The only recourse the sheriff will have then is a suit against the board. If the case is appealed it will enable the higher court to pass upon the validity of the new law.

The action of the commissioners will be based upon an opinion of the county attorney who holds that vagrants may not be sheltered in the county jail except upon a mittimus issued by a magistrate before whom formal charges have been filed by an officer. Decatur county during 1912 cared for 745 vagrants at a total cost in fees of $371.25. Bartholomew and Rush counties paid out nothing, while Shelby county paid only $3.50.

With the view that the ex-sheriffs, sheriffs, ex-county clerks and county clerks should "get theirs" if there was any division of "pork" the legislature passed legalizing acts to permit the ex-county officials to grab off all they had hoped to grab under the unconstitutional acts of 1909 relating to sheriffs' and clerks' fees.

Representative Lyday put in a bill which legalized all the fees charged

Get 100 Cents Value for Every Dollar You Spend.

A dollar is worth 100 cents value in everything you buy, but do you always get "value received?"

You can give or take from the value of a dollar by the way in which you spend it. Your pleasures in life, your standing and influence in the community depend largely upon the value you place on every dollar you own and the value you get on every dollar you spend.

Dollars spent unwisely lose their full purchasing power and value to you; careful spending and systematic saving will enable you to secure "value received" and future independence.

You will secure full value for every dollar you spend by reading the advertisements in THE DAILY REPUBLICAN closely and constantly every day. THE DAILY REPUBLICAN'S advertisements will tell you of the best purchasing opportunities and direct you to the most reliable stores in Rushville.

COURT EXPLAINS RECENT ACTION

Why Grand Jury at Terre Haute Was Discharged.

NOT THE QUICKEST WAY OUT

Judge Fortune, in Speaking of the Summary Discharge of Inquisitors Who Were About to Begin Investigation of Alleged Primary Frauds, Declared the Better Plan to Be the Direct Filing of Charges.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 19.—Judge C. M. Fortune of the circuit court said he summarily discharged the grand jury as it was beginning an investigation of the Democratic primaries last Thursday because "the quickest way to get action in election cases is for persons who have complaints to file them directly with the prosecutor." Also, as the grand jury has no other work, it would be an unnecessary expense to keep it in session. Last year two grand juries investigated primaries and registration and one jury sat for several weeks, with occasional outgivings of sensational results. Finally two or three men were indicted on technical charges, which lawyers said could not be sustained in court, and which finally caused the cases to be dismissed.

Prosecuting Attorney Werneke when asked about the action of Judge Fortune, said: "The prosecutor's office will continue to do its duty and pay attention to the complaint of any citizen." Before the judge discharged the grand jury the prosecutor said he had bundles of evidence and that he would see to it that all of it was submitted to the grand jury.

ANSWERED COUNTRY'S CALL

And Found Himself Out of Business Upon His Return Home.

Fort Wayne, Ind., March 19.—That being a patriot and serving one's country as a clerk in the Indiana legislature sometimes causes a tremendous sacrifice is indicated in a suit filed here in which Frank Erickson asks damages in the sum of $1,500 from George Stenger, Charles Kees, John Frederick Fuelber, Edward Robinson, John Thompson, Elmer Jones and William Robinson. Erickson is a resident of Edgerton, Allen county. He answered the call of his country and left his poolroom and barber shop to serve as a clerk in the legislature.

In his complaint he says he was a tenant of the Robert Hixon Land company, and that in his absence the room he had occupied was sold and his possessions were abruptly moved and disposed of and that he was not properly notified of the proceedings. Stenger is the justice of peace before whom the proceedings were instituted. Fuelber and Kees are his bondsmen. Edward Robinson bought the property and the others are in the case as justice court officers.

COURT BREAKS UP BAD GANG

Stockwell Youths Had Organized to Create Reign of Terror.

Lafayette, Ind., March 19.—Judge R. P. Dehart sentenced four Stockwell boys and one man to different state institutions. The offenders were arrested for the breaking into the store of William H. Holloway, father of three of the boys. Estel Holloway, fourteen years old, the youngest of the boys, was committed to the Indiana school at Plainfield. James and George Holloway were sentenced to serve terms of from two to fourteen years each in the Jeffersonville reformatory. Harry Vancourt was sentenced to serve from one to eight years at Jeffersonville. Ray Lindsay, thirty-three years old, another of the same gang, was sentenced to serve a term of two to fourteen years in the Michigan City penitentiary. It was brought out at the trial that the boys had organized at Stockwell on the night of March 14 for the purpose of causing a reign of terror in that village.

Accidentally Blew Head Off.
Bloomington, Ind., March 19.—Charles Wesley West, thirty-five years old, a farmer who lived near Hindostan, sixteen miles north of here, accidentally killed himself by shooting off the top of his head with a shotgun. His body was found near the kitchen door, indicating that he was on his way outside when he struck the trigger against the wainscoting, causing the gun to be accidentally discharged.

A Boy and a Gun.
Connersville, Ind., March 19.—Frederick Reed, aged six, shot himself through the abdomen with a .38 caliber revolver and died twenty minutes later. The boy had climbed up to a bureau drawer and got the revolver to play with it. "It hurt when it bit me, papa, but it don't hurt any more," and I'm sleepy now," he gasped. He died before a physician arrived.

Something New in Theft.
Evansville, Ind., March 19.—Thieves set a new precedent in the larceny records of the Evansville police when they tore up and walked away with sheeted feet of hedge fence, bordering the lawn of George P. Neill and Mrs. Anna P. Helm on Walnut street. There is no clue.

The Last Course Must Be the Most Attractive

When people are hungry they are less critical of what is set before them than they are when the dessert appears. This course must be attractive to eye and palate alike—a light and tempting sweet, in distinction from the substantial dishes preceding it. You can make such desserts with Knox Gelatine. For today try—

Blanc Mange with Almonds

1 envelope Knox Sparkling Gelatine.
3½ cups cream or milk. ½ pound almonds.
1 cup sugar.
Soften gelatine in ½ cup milk or cream five minutes and dissolve by standing in hot water. Pound the almonds, after blanching, with part of sugar; add rest of sugar and part of cream. Let stand ½ hour or more, then press through napkin. Add to this almond milk, the dissolved gelatine and rest of milk or cream, turn into mold. Serve with cream.

Two Packages—Plain and Acidulated.
Both Making Two Quarts (½ gallon) of Jelly.
With the Plain Sparkling, lemons are used for flavoring; but with the Acidulated package comes an envelope of concentrated lemon juice—a great convenience when too busy to squeeze lemons. Both contain a tablet for coloring.

GRAY FADED HAIR, OR BEAUTIFUL, DARK, ATTRACTIVE—CHOOSE, MADAM!

Says Sage Tea Mixed With Sulphur Restores Natural Color and Luster.

Gray, faded hair turned beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night, is a reality, if you'll take the trouble to mix sage tea and sulphur, but what's the use, you get a large bottle of the ready-to-use tonic, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at drug stores here for about 50 cents. Millions of bottles of "Wyeth's" are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after just one application the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops. This is the age of youth, gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with the Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be amazed at your youthful appearance and the real beauty and healthy condition of your hair within a few days. Inquiry at drug stores here shows that they all sell lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and the folks using it are enthusiastic.

LEASES OIL LAND.
Ralph Souder, the oil man who is here for the purpose of leasing land on which to drill oil wells, has leased the Elmund White farm, east of Knightstown, of 350 acres. When asked about it Mr. White did not know when the contractors would drill for it, but said it would drill for oil, but said it would be sometime during the present season. Mr. Souder is preparing to lease other farm land in this vicinity for the purpose of putting down oil wells.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema
Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription. We have sold other remedies for skin troubles but none that we can recommend as highly as this for we know that D.D.D. stops the itch at once. We just want you to give D.D.D. a trial. That will be enough to prove it.
Of course all other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.
But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee:—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

The Need of a Convention.

Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa, in a speech at Des Moines recently, declared that a Republican national convention should be called next fall to change the southern representation so as to equalize it with that of the north.

This recalls the bare fact that the Indiana delegation stood for a lowering of the southern representation at the 1908 convention. A move was afoot then to make the representation more equal. But there came from Roosevelt at the White House a command that no change should be made. Then his control of the party organization would have been lost. His control then was so powerful that his will prevailed.

There is little doubt but that the representation as it is now constituted is unfair. The suggestion that a convention be called to make a change for the better has met with approval among Republicans all over the United States.

Senator Cummins expressed the belief that the doors of opportunity are now swinging wide for the Republican party, and unless it enters, the temporary defeat may become final. He declared the southern representation caused the party organization to cease to be unrepresentative.

"It must be apparent to every thinking man that such injustice could not endure, and that whenever the Republicans in such States as Iowa saw their will and purpose overthrown by the overrepresented States, a rebellion would follow," he said.

"To me the only wonder is that we have submitted so long. The time has now come to amend our organization so that it will be fair and right, and I predict that until we do it the Republican party will not be restored to the confidence of the people.

If we are in earnest in trying to make the Republican party strong again we must not wait until 1916 to readjust the basis of representation; we must do it now, and there is but one way to do it, and that is for the national committee to call together a national Republican convention, and for such convention, free from the disturbances of a campaign for nominations, to take up the subject and deal with it according to the very right of the matter. If we fail to do this, the door of opportunity will be shut in our faces.

"How can we invite the men who rebelled against the outcome of the Chicago convention again to bear the Republican banner so long as we acknowledge that a handful of Republicans in certain States can neutralize the will and purpose of that great army of Republicans who made the party what it was, and can make it so again if they be given a chance to do it.

"We ought not to hesitate for a moment in the national convention, which should be speedily called. We ought to declare in clear and unequivocal terms that when delegates are elected according to law they should be accepted without question or dispute. I see no hope for the restoration of the Republican party to strength and power unless we do this simple act of justice, and do it at once. If our organization is thus changed so that our convention will become really representative, so that all men may know that the Republican will, as declared by the individual Republican voter, both as to platform and nomination, will be faithfully carried out to the very end, then the Republican party will constitute the safest and best instrumentality of the present time for good government.

BELIEVES HE HAS CHANCE FOR BERTH

H. E. Barrett Still Entertains Hope of Being Named Member of Public Service Commission.

OTHERS MAY GET SOME "PIE"

Howard E. Barrett, city attorney, feels that he still has fighting chance to land a berth on the Indiana public service commission, created by the Shively-Spencer commission act passed by the last legislature. The commission will consist of five members at a salary of $6,000 each. The commission will absorb the railroad commission, meaning three appointments will have to be made since the term of one of the three members of the railroad commission expire soon.

Mr. Barrett has already asked for an appointment and some local Democrats have pressed his claims. Indianapolis dispatches say that Governor Ralston has already determined to appoint Thomas M. Duncan of Princeton, Fred S. Caldwell of Winchester and Charles Clark of Danville, but the story is not confirmed. All three men are lawyers and have served as circuit court judges.

It is understood that two or three other local Democrats have their eyes on the "pie" counter and may place in a good job, but the news is not quite ready for the public yet.

An eight pound boy was born this afternoon to the wife of Derby Green in North Main street.

Notice of Election.

FESTIVE ARRAY OF SPRING FASHIONS BRINGS CROWD.

The Maunzy Company's "day-light" store was crowded this afternoon for the annual opening. The store was in festive array for the occasion, merchandise was displayed with pleasing effect and embellished with flowers and other tasteful decorations.

The windows were the source of much favorable comment. The background for each was a rural scene painted by Bruce Beck, the decorator at the store who was responsible for the fine effects in the windows and the first and second floors. Rambler roses were used in setting off the hand paintings in the windows, and spring coats, frocks, suits, shoes, draperies and other seasonable merchandise were displayed to excellent advantage.

The display of goods in the first floor, beautified by the decorations, was very fetching and many visitors at the store this afternoon made many admirable comments on the arrangement.

The ceiling was massed with a series of lattice work, entwined with tulips in various colors. The border of the ceiling was arrayed in masses of bows, set off with tulips. The chandeliers were decorated in the same manner. The arrangement of the merchandise was very attractive. Especially so was the display of parasols along the south ledge, the full length of the store.

The suit, coat and ready-made dress department at the front of the second floor was the mecca for women visitors who literally flocked there to see the display of the spring fashions by living models. Ferns were used to good advantage in the decorations.

The display of draperies, also on the second floor, was arranged in fine array. The third floor, which is devoted to carpets and rugs, was arranged by Will Leach, who has charge of that department. The expensive and large assortment of rugs and carpets needed no embellishments, so attractively were they displayed.

If You are Going to Buy a Buggy This Spring

take the same interest in the business that you would if you were buying a horse. Examine the buggy you buy. Look it over for blemishes. Try it out in a way to find out what you can reasonably expect of it in the way of service. If you were buying a horse from one of your neighbors you would examine him to see if he was sound and what kind of service he had given the man that owned him. That is what we want you to do when you buy a buggy. Ask your neighbor what kind of service he has had out of the buggy he bought of us and you will find him a satisfied man as far as that transaction is concerned. The next thing to do is to come to our sample room and see if we have a buggy that suits your needs and if you find one that fits the bill, EXAMINE IT and find out right on the sample floor what you can expect of it in the way of service. Look it over for weak points, see if it is sound and try it out just as you would if you were buying a horse and when you are satisfied that it is right in every way and will fit your requirements, buy it and take it home, then should there be anything wrong with it in any way we will make it right. Our buggies give good road service and we want you to own one of them.

AMUSEMENT.

The Princess will show an Edison drama entitled "An Unsullied Shield" for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a thrilling picture. The other is a Pathe drama "The Hollow Tree." Tomorrow night a two-reel Kalem feature "The Guiding Light" will be shown.

The Palace will show the usual two pictures tonight. "The Law of God" is the subject of the first, an American western dram. The other is a comedy film showing two subjects "Rough on Rats" and "The Baby and the Cop."

The coolest crook and the most blasé lover in the whole world are to be found in the cast of "Officer 666," Augustin McHugh's farce, which will be the attraction at English's Opera House, Indianapolis, March 20, 21 and 22, with a matinee on Saturday.

The crook calmly assumes the name and occupies the house of an absent millionaire and proceeds to rifle the residence of its valuable paintings, while the lover, mistaken for a picture thief, gets his wrists in a pair of handcuffs and while manacled proposes to and is accepted by the girl of his choice.

"Officer 666" is an unusual play. It keeps you guessing and makes you laugh. The cast includes Clarence Oliver, George Howell, Ralph Dean, Frank McGlynn, John Arthur, Jona Bright, Edna Hibbard and Charlotte Lambert.

INFANT DEAD.

Ober F. Reynolds, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds, died yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at their home on the Cullen farm west of the city. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at ten o'clock conducted by the Rev. C. M. Yocum. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

COURT DARK.

Judge Meggie was in Newcastle today on business and as a result the circuit court was "dark." It has been rather quiet in court this week due to the continuance of the Robert Gardner drain-case. The case was to have taken up four days.

LAST OF SERIES.

The last of the series of meetings held by the C. W. B. M. of the Main Street Christian church in observance of the week of prayer will be at the church Thursday evening at seven-thirty o'clock. The subject will be "The Holy Land" and Mrs. Roy Waggener will be the leader. Church members are especially urged to attend.

The funeral of Robert Dora, who died at his home in Glenwood yesterday, will be held at the residence Thursday morning at eleven-thirty o'clock, conducted by the Rev. W. D. Sterrett of Glenwood. Interment will take place in the Glenwood cemetery. Mr. Dora was an Odd Fellow.

VERNON WINK WANTS CHANGE OF VENUE

Knightstown Druggist Asserts in Affidavit He Can't Get Fair Trial in Newcastle.

PUBLIC PREJUDICED, HE SAYS

Vernon Wink, the Knightstown druggist under arrest for selling liquor illegally, has made an affidavit in the circuit court to the effect that the Daily Times has prejudiced the minds of the public against him and that therefore he can not be given a fair and impartial trial, says the Newcastle Times. Therefore he asks for a change of venue.

The affidavit is a voluminous affair and relates that the Daily Times in big bold face type proclaimed to the world that the defendant had been arrested on the charges alluded to and that the publication of the court records in the matter had had an effect which would not tend to serve the ends of justice.

A motion for a change of venue from a circuit court wherein a misdemeanor only is alleged, is held to be of very rare occurrence, although persons charged with a felony very frequently take a change of venue from the court in which those charges originated. That, however, is an entirely different matter. Wink is under bonds in the sum of $2,000, there having been eight different charges filed against him.

Arguments were made for and against the motion for a change and Judge Jackson took the matter under advisement.

The Letters.

Before a table strewn with papers, in the room we have already mentioned as given over to the use of the police, sat Doctor Heath in a mood too thoughtful to notice the entrance of Mr. Gryce and Sweetwater from the dining-room where they had been having dinner.

However, as the former's tread was somewhat lumbering, the coroner's attention was caught before they had quite crossed the room, and Sweetwater, with his quick eye, noted how his arm and hand immediately fell so as to cover up a portion of the papers lying nearest to him.

"Well Gryce, this is a dark case," he observed, as at his bidding the two detectives took their seats.

Mr. Gryce nodded; so did Sweetwater.

"She was not shot. She was not struck by any other hand; yet she lies dead from a mortal wound in the breast. Though there is no tangible proof of her having inflicted this wound upon herself, the jury will have no alternative, I fear, than to pronounce the case one of suicide."

"I'm sorry that I've been able to do so little," remarked Mr. Gryce.

The coroner darted him a quick look.

"You are not satisfied? You have some different idea?" he asked.

The detective frowned at his hands crossed over the top of his cane, then shaking his head, replied:

"The verdict you mention is the only natural one, of course. I see that you have been talking with Miss Challoner's former maid?"

"Yes, and she has settled an important point for us. There was a possibility, of course, that the paper-cutter which you brought to my notice had never gone with her into the mezzanine. That she, or some other person, had dropped it in passing through the lobby. But this girl assures me that her mistress did not enter the lobby that night. That she accompanied her down in the elevator, and saw her step off at the mezzanine. She can also swear that the cutter was in a book she carried—the book we found lying on the desk. The girl remembers distinctly seeing its peculiarly chased handle projecting from its pages. Could anything be more satisfactory if—I was going to say, if the young lady had been of the impulsive type and the provocation greater. But Miss Challoner's nature was calm, and were it not for these letters—" here his arm shifted a little—"I should not be so sure of my jury's future verdict. Love—" he went on, after a moment of silent consideration of a letter he had chosen from those before him, "disturbs the most equable natures. When it enters as a factor, we can expect anything—as you know. And Miss Challoner evidently was much attached to her correspondent, and naturally left the reproach conveyed in these lines."

And Doctor Heath read:

"Dear Miss Challoner: Only a man of small spirit could endure what I endured from you the other day. Love

Get at the root of the trouble.

Rubbing an aching back may relieve it,

But won't cure it if the kidneys are weak.

You must reach the root of it—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right at it; Reach the cause; attack the pain.

Are recommended by many Rushville people.

Harrison Levi, 931 N. Harrison St., Rushville, Ind., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are the only remedy that ever did me any good. I am glad to confirm what I said in their praise in 1907. I had to get up several at night to pass the kidney secretions which were sometimes attended with pain. I had severe backaches, too. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Johnson's Drug Store and it did not take them long to make me well. The pains all left and the action of my kidneys became regular. I am now free from kidney weakness.

Anty Drudge—"Just out—is he? Well, he's going to be out some more if he thinks I'm going to use an imitation of Fels-Naptha Soap. Some other grocer will get my trade in the future."

Any invention that saves time and labor is bound to come into universal use. The sewing machine, the telephone, the electric light were all received with doubt at first; now most every person uses them.

such as mine would be respectable in a clod-hopper, and I think that even you will acknowledge that I stand somewhat higher than that. Though I was silent under your disapprobation, you shall yet have your answer. It will not lack point because of its necessary delay."

"A threat!"

The words sprang from Sweetwater, and were evidently involuntary.

"It is the only letter of them all which conveys anything like a reproach," proceeded the coroner. "Her surprise must consequently have been great at receiving these lines, and her resentment equally so. If the two met afterwards—But I have not shown you the signature. To the poor father it conveyed nothing—some facts have been kept from him—but to us—" here he whirled the letter about so that Sweetwater, at least, could see the name, "it conveys a hope that we may yet understand Miss Challoner."

"Brotherhood!" exclaimed the young detective in loud surprise. "Brotherhood! The man who—"

"The man who left this building just before or simultaneously with the alarm caused by Miss Challoner's fall. It clears away some of the clouds fogging us. She probably caught sight of him in the lobby, and in the passion of the moment forgot her usual instincts and drove the sharp-pointed weapon into her heart."

"Brotherhood!" The word came softly now, and with a thoughtful intonation. "He saw her die."

"Why do you say that?"

MORE OUT-DOOR LIVING

And Death Rate Will be Lowered.

Statistics prove that the death rate is very much greater in the winter months than in summer, and that the lack of fresh air is largely responsible for this condition.

If the system becomes run-down, blood thin and watery, circulation poor, no appetite, don't dose with drugs, but take our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol, not a patent medicine, as everything in it is named on every package and if it does not give you a hearty appetite, enrich the blood and create strength, we will return your money; that shows our faith in Vinol.

A case has just come to our attention from Albany, N. Y., Mrs. H. Hartman says: "I was in a run-down condition for about five years until this spring, when I learned what a good tonic and strengthener Vinol is. It is certainly the best tonic I have ever used and it has done wonders for me."

cuse me, Doctor Heath and Mr. Gryce. It is not for me to obtrude my opinion."

"Have you settled it beyond dispute that Brotherhood is really the man who was seen doing this?"

"No, sir. I have not had a minute for that job, but I'm ready for the business any time you see fit to spare me."

"Let it be tomorrow, or, if you can manage it, tonight. We want the man even if he is not the hero of that romantic episode. He wrote these letters, and he must explain the last one. His initials, as you see, are not ordinary ones, and you will find them at the bottom of all these sheets. He was brave enough or arrogant enough to sign the questionable one with his full name. This may speak well for him, and it may not. It is for you to decide that. Where will you look for him, Sweetwater? No one here knows his address."

"Not Miss Challoner's maid?"

"No; the name is a new one to her. But she made it very evident that she was not surprised to hear that her mistress was in secret correspondence with a member of the male sex. Much can be hidden from servants, but not that."

"I'll find the man; I have a double reason for doing that now; he shall not escape me."

Doctor Heath expressed his satisfaction, and gave some orders. Meanwhile, Mr. Gryce had not uttered a word.

CHAPTER VIII.

Strange Doings for George.

That evening George sat so long over the newspapers that in spite of my absorbing interest in the topic engrossing me, I fell asleep in my cozy little rocking chair. I was awakened by what seemed like a kiss falling very softly on my forehead, though, to be sure, it may have been only the flap of George's coat sleeve as he stooped over me.

"Wake up, little woman," I heard, "and trot away to bed. I'm going out and may not be in till daybreak."

"You! going out! at ten o'clock at night, tired as you are—as we both are! What has happened—Ah!"

This broken exclamation escaped me as I perceived in the dim background by the sitting-room door, the figure of a man who called up recent, but very thrilling experiences.

"Mr. Sweetwater," explained George. "We are going out together. It is necessary, or you may be sure I should not leave you."

He gave me a little good advice as to how I had better employ my time in his absence, and was off before I could find words to answer.

As soon as the two were in the street, the detective turned towards George and said:

"Mr. Anderson, I have a great deal to ask of you. Mr. Brotherhood has vanished; that is, in his own proper person, but I have an idea that I am on the track of one who will lead us very directly to him if we manage the affair carefully. What I want of you, of course, is mere identification. You saw the face of the man who washed his hands in the snow, and would know it again, you say. Do you think you could be quite sure of yourself, if the man were differently dressed and differently occupied?"

"I think so. There's his height and a certain strong look in his face. I cannot describe it."

"You don't need to. Come! we're all right. You don't mind making a night of it?"

"Not if it is necessary."

"That we can't tell yet." And with a characteristic shrug and smile, the detective led the way to a taxicab which stood in waiting at the corner.

A quarter of an hour of rather fast riding brought them into a tangle of streets on the East side.

When they stopped, which was in a few minutes, Sweetwater said to George:

"We shall have to walk now for a block or two. If you can manage to act as if you were accustomed to the place and just leave all the talking to me, we ought to get along first-rate."

Don't be astonished at anything you see, and trust me for the rest; that's all."

They alighted, and he dismissed the taxicab. Some clock in the neighborhood struck the hour of ten.

"Good! we shall be in time," muttered the detective, and led the way

"He didn't go in by it; yet I believe he's safe enough inside," was the muttered answer.

Some Clock in the Neighborhood Struck Ten.

down the street and round a corner or so, till they came to a block darker than the rest, and much less noisy.

"There's a meeting on tonight, of the Associated Brotherhood of the Ayl, the Plane and the Trowel (what ever that means), and it is the speaker we want to see; the man who is to address them promptly at ten o'clock. Do you object to meetings?"

"Is this a secret one?"

"It wasn't advertised."

"Are we carpenters or masons that we can count on admittance?"

"Hush! I must speak to this man."

George stood back, and a few words passed between Sweetwater and a shadowy figure which seemed to have sprung up out of the sidewalk.

"Balked at the outset," were the encouraging words with which the detective rebuffed George. "It seems that a pass-word is necessary, and my friend has been unable to get it. Will the speaker pass out this way?" he inquired of the shadowy figure still lingering in their rear.

"He didn't go in by it; yet I believe he's safe enough inside," was the muttered answer.

GREEK KING SLAIN BY A CRAZY MAN

Tragedy in Streets of Salonica.

IS SHOT FROM BEHIND

King George Victim of Beggar He Had Spurned.

HE REFUSED THE MAN MONEY

Beggar Thereupon Crept Up Behind and Shot.

Salonica, March 19.—While walking in the streets here Tuesday afternoon King George of Greece was shot and mortally wounded by an apparently insane man, and died half an hour later. The king and one of his aides were walking along the street at 5 o'clock, when a Greek named Aleko Schoinas came up behind them and fired from a revolver point blank into the back of the king. King George fell to the ground and died half an hour later. Schoinas, who apparently is insane, was immediately arrested. Prince Nicholas, one of King George's sons, immediately notified Crown Prince Constantine, who was at Janina, of the event which makes him the new king of Greece. There is nothing that suggests that the murder was a political one or anything else than the act of a maniac.

THE SLAIN KING.

The city of Salonica was captured many weeks ago by the Greeks, and King George's soldiers and subjects had since occupied the place.

Athens, March 19.—Tremendous excitement was aroused here when the news of the assassination of King George was received. The streets are thronged with sympathetic and excited people, who are discussing the tragedy which has befallen them at a moment when the royal family was at the height of its popularity owing to the Greek successes in the war and the share the members of the royal family have had in the victories over the Turks.

Details of the assassination are incomplete. One account says the assassin is a madman. Another account says he was a Socialist who belonged to Vole. He was accompanied by an unnamed comrade, according to this story. Schoinas is described as a man fifty years of age and badly dressed. It is said that when arrested Schoinas said he had shot the king because he refused to give him money for which he had asked.

Queen Olga arrived here last evening from Preveza. She learned of her husband's fate aboard the steamer. She sailed for Salonica at once. The Russian cruiser with the new King Constantine aboard left Janina last night for Salonica. Thence she will come to Athens.

Son of Old King Christian.

George I. was the second son of King Christian IX. of Denmark. He was born at Copenhagen on Dec. 24, 1845. His grandfather was a direct descendant of the Danish King Christian III., and his grandmother was Louise, daughter of a prince of Hesse-Cassel. King George's father occupied a patriarchal position and was related to almost every sovereign of Europe. His wife, the king of Greece's mother, was called "the aunt of all Europe."

George was educated with all the strictness and simplicity that prevails in a Denmark palace. He was put in the navy, and it was here, a young midshipman eighteen years old, in disgrace for refusing to obey orders, by the way, that he was sought out by the chancellors of Europe and offered a throne in a country about which he knew practically nothing and which he is doubtful if he had ever seen.

It was a time of grave events in Greece. The midshipman was before called to a nation which had just deposed a king chosen for Greece by the powers in much the same way that George was being chosen. Otto of Bavaria, in his attempt to override the constitution, had aroused the enmity of the people. His position had become untenable. A provisional government was set up and Otto and the queen fled in a British warship back to Bavaria, and the throne was offered to Prince William George, the Danish midshipman. Prince George was before the masthead being punished for insubordination when the emissaries came with the offer of a throne. The Greeks, wearied of internal troubles, received him with open arms.

CONSTANTINE

On Oct. 17, 1867, King George married the Grand Duchess Olga Constantinovna of Russia. Their children were Prince Constantine, born the following year; Prince George, born in 1869; Prince Michael, born in 1872; Prince Andrew, born in 1882; Prince Christopher, born in 1888, and one daughter, Princess Marie, who was born in 1876.

The New King.

King Constantine, the new ruler of Greece, four years ago, and before that time, was most unpopular in his own kingdom where today he is a hero classed with the ancient warriors of the historic land. The ruler for whom Greeks all over the world as well as in Greece have been buying chaplets, swords, jeweled wreaths, as the liberator of the land from the thrall of the Turks, has heard outside the palace walls at Athens and at his own chateau of Tatooi the cry of the mob that he and his father abdicate in favor of his own eldest son, Prince George; he has had the military league of his own army and navy against him to the extent of mutiny; he has been inveighed against in the parliament and publicly scored in the newspapers for political reasons. Now when he returns to Athens, not only as king, but as commander of an army that revived the glory that once was Greece, there will be no limit to the popular enthusiasm.

Konstantinos, Duke of Sparta, eldest son of King George, was born at Athens, Aug. 2, 1868. He was educated by tutors who were brought from Leipzig, and one of the accusations against him has been that he has always shown the effects of German influence. Tall, soldierly in appearance, quiet, reserved almost to the point of shyness, in the ordinary court functions he has always made every endeavor to avoid the crowds. He has always been known as a man with opinions of his own, even to the extent of going out after a ministry which he thought was going contrary to the best interests of the country.

Brother-in-Law of Kaiser.

King Constantine is a brother-in-law of the German emperor, although it is said the royal brothers-in-law have not spoken for a half dozen years. He was married at Athens, Oct. 27, 1889, to the Princess Sophia of Prussia, sister of Emperor William, and the trouble came not so long after that, when the princess became a member of the orthodox Greek church. The Kaiser is a Lutheran and he objected to the change. There are five children by this marriage: Prince George, born July 19, 1890; Prince Alexander, born in 1893; Princess Helene, born in 1896; Prince Paul, born in 1901, and the Princess Irene, who is nine years old.

Undoubtedly King Constantine did much to keep his father on the throne for so many years. There had been threats to dethrone him, to none of which did the old king enter serious objection. The only point he ever made was that he would not abdicate. But for years he has preferred the lights of Paris and the baths of France to his own kingdom. During the meantime King Constantine always acted as regent, and he administered with all the firmness that an exceedingly jealous kingdom would permit him. How jealous they may be was shown in the attitude of the subjects after the Cretan fiasco, when the present king was accused of involving his country, unnecessarily. There were just as many strictures following the previous war with Turkey in Thessaly, where it was said that his conduct had not been princely. That the Greeks were jealous has long since been acknowledged, but at that time there were loud demands that he resign the crown.

IN EVERY HOME

DR. JONES' LINIMENT

IS A NECESSITY

Just think what a convenience and pride it gives to every housewife to be prepared for emergency; that she can be of immediate service to her family, neighbors or friends in case of accident or sudden illness, and spare a great deal of suffering by always keeping a bottle of Dr. Jones' Liniment handy.

For instance, a slight injury may eat into the flesh and develop into a bad wound. Pneumonia may develop from a slight cold, etc., but a little of Dr. Jones' Liniment applied in the nick of time gets to the sore spot at once, and effects relief.

For the youngsters who suffer from earache, chilblains or frost bites, the suffering must be relieved at once, and Dr. Jones' Liniment will do it.

Old people are usually afflicted with coughing spells, rheumatism, cold and cramps in the hands and feet, and other pains peculiar to the aged. Dr. Jones' Liniment, applied frequently to the afflicted parts, stimulates the circulation, stops the pain and proves a blessing.

The comforts of home are incomplete without a bottle of Dr. Jones' Liniment. It is absolutely pure, and may be used on invalids and the most delicate children with perfect safety.

Sold by Thos. W. Lytle, F. E. Wolcott and all druggists.

OLIVER

THE JAMES OLIVER NO. 11 SULKY PLOW is the best sulky plow you can buy. The plow and driver are carried along not dragged. The one best plow for any soil, any time and under any condition. The No. 11 will do more work and better work with less exertion, than any other sulky, because it is so light in weight, simple in construction, easy draft and less breakage. Once tried, always satisfactory.

THE OLIVER NO. 1 GANG PLOW is the plow for service when it comes to light draft. Center hitch and quick adjusting. A plow that enjoys hard ground or soft.

FARMERS HIT BY NEW GAME LAWS

Has No Right To Hunt In His Own Township Without a Hunter's License.

"JOKER" SLIPPED THROUGH

Unlawful to Hunt Any Kind of Game

Except Duck and Waterfowl

From Dec. 20 to April 1.

Every person who goes hunting in Indiana off of his own land must have a license costing $1 after the new license law goes into effect, when the acts of the last legislature are published. The fact that there was no provision in the bill permitting persons to hunt any place in their own township without a license, as has been the case, escaped notice during the progress of the measure through the legislature.

Only children under 12 years of age and wives of men holding licenses to fish outside of the county in which they live and adjoining counties under the new law. The licenses cost $1 and permits both hunting and fishing. Holders of hunting licenses are not required to take out new permits in order to fish.

A number of changes are made in the fish and game laws in another bill put through the legislature by Fish and Game Commissioner Miles now in effect.

It makes twelve bass instead of twenty the limit for one day's catch and limits the number of blue gills, croppies and sun fish to fifty.

Bottle fishing or the use of any floating devices is made unlawful, as is catching fish with the hands or killing them by electricity. No hook smaller than a G-O Kirby can be used on a trout line.

The fish and game commissioner is given authority to set aside shallow bays for breeding grounds and no fishing may be done in them from March 20 to July 1 of each year.

The new law makes it unlawful to hunt any kind of game except duck and waterfowl from Dec. 20 to April 1 of the following year. The open season for quail is now from Nov. 10 to Jan. 20, instead of to Jan. 1.

Another law enacted by the last legislature makes it unlawful to hunt rabbits with ferrets.

Enforcement of laws for the protection of fur-bearing animals is placed in the hands of the fish and game commissioner and the game wardens can prosecute violators the same as they prosecute violators of the fish and game laws.

The bill establishing a closed season for fishing failed to pass.

LIVINGSTONE CENTENARY

Rushville People Recall Famous Missionary Was Born 100 Years Ago.

Many Rushville people today recalled that this was the centenary of David Livingstone's birth. He was born at Blantyre, Scotland, March 19, 1813 and died at Bangweulu, Africa, May 1, 1873. As many have written since his death, Livingstone was a man of many interests, but with a single aim. His life has thrilled the world, and the hundredth anniversary of his birthday has been generally celebrated and referred to by many speakers. He became famous by giving his life to missionary work in Africa.

HIS "SPRING OPENING." While merchants of Rushville were holding spring openings today, Jesse Winship held his. He appeared on the downtown streets with a straw hat on, the first one of the season to see the light of day. Mr. Winship prides himself for setting the pace in this respect. He also manages each spring to "beat everybody to it" with his hat.

TESTING TIME FOR SELECTING SEED CORN IS AT HAND

The Crop Improvement Committee, of Chicago, Illinois, has devised a Tester by which each Ear of Corn may be tested as to its germinating powers.

Knowing the value of careful selection of Seed for planting, the Peoples Loan and Trust Company, of Rushville, Indiana, has procured a supply of these Testers, and will gladly furnish you with one or more with directions for use on application. We invite you to call.

NEW FEE LAW TO BE TESTED

and claimed by the sheriffs under the 1909 act. This meant a big sum of money to the people of Indiana, but the legislature gave little consideration to the question. It just "whooped it through." This bill was permitted by the Governor to become a law. He voted a bill by Senator Fleming, however, which sought to give to sheriffs in the future the in-and-out fees, and also to give them 50 cents instead of 40 cents a day for boarding prisoners.

The Brannaman "clerk's grab" bill, in addition to voting out of the county treasuries more than $75,000 for the sole and personal benefit of ex-county clerks, by giving them fees to which the supreme court decision in the sheriff's case declares they are not entitled, also gives them such fees in the future. Thus it was a salary "grab" of something like $35,000 a year for the county clerks as a class. It also contains one of the worst provisions that can be found in any law in the state. This is a "joker" which permits the clerks to charge and collect and retain these fees without making any accounting or report. This conceals from the public the facts as to the amount of money the clerks are putting into their own pockets. The clerks' bill became a law without the Governor's signature.

There are many people in Indiana who can not figure out why a sheriff should receive 25 cents every time a prisoner is delivered into his custody and 25 cents every time he releases one, nor why the clerk should put into his own pocket a fee for doing work pertaining to his office. These people believe that it is in return for doing such things as this that the sheriff and clerk receive their salaries.
